Utah has one statewide HIV prevention planning committee with 26 members. CDC recommends that members of HIV prevention planning groups reflect the characteristics of the epidemic in the state. This means that for Utah the planning committee should be composed of individuals who represent men who have sex with men (MSM), injecting drug users (IDU), women at risk, youth, and ethnic populations (particularly Hispanic and African American). This representation can come from individuals in those categories, or from organizations which serve the populations listed. CDC also recommends that individuals with experience in social and behavioral sciences and/or experience in program planning and evaluation be included for effective committee representation. Applications for membership are taken in late summer/early fall of each year.

CHAPTER 3: HEPATITIS C

Hepatitis C Information

Taken from www.cdc.gov, www.hcvadvocate.org and www.hepc-connection.org.
Go to their websites for more information.

What is Hepatitis C?

- * Hepatitis C is a liver disease caused by the hepatitis C Virus (HCV). The virus infects the liver and the blood. Many years after hepatitis C infects the liver and the blood, the liver can become so damaged that it cannot work properly to do the jobs that keep us healthy.
- * According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), at least 4.1 million Americans are infected with hepatitis C.
- * Hepatitis C kills approximately 8,000 to 10,000 Americans each year.
- * Hepatitis C is one of the main reasons for liver transplants in the U.S.

How do I get Hepatitis C?

- * You get hepatitis C ONLY when the blood of another person infected with the hepatitis C Virus gets into your body.
- * Sharing needles used to inject drugs or other things.
- * Sharing drug injecting paraphernalia—needles, cookers (to mix drugs), cottons (to filter drugs), and tourniquets or ties.
- * Blood transfusion or organ transplant before July 1992.
- * Sex—it is rare, but having multiple partners and/or having unprotected sex increase the risk of getting HCV.
- * Unsterile tattoos or body piercings. The person giving the tattoo or body piercing should:
 - Use sterilized equipment for each customer.
 - Always use new needles.
 - Wash hands and put on a new pair of latex gloves.
 - Use new, disposable razors for shaving skin.
 - Use new, sterilized jewelry for any body piercing.
- * Sharing personal hygiene items that may have blood on them such as razors, shavers or toothbrushes.
- * Any other direct exposure to HCV-infected blood.

What are the symptoms of Hepatitis C?

- * Many people have no symptoms for a long time, or they may have mild symptoms at times. If they do have symptoms, they may include any of the following:

- Fatigue
- Feeling sick to the stomach
- Aches and pains in muscles, joints and abdomen
- Fever
- Night sweats
- Loss of appetite
- Nausea and vomiting
- Yellowing of skin and/or eyes (jaundice)
- Weight loss
- Insomnia

Will I get sick?

- * It can take many years (up to 40 years) to get very sick with hepatitis C.
- * About 75-80% of the people who have hepatitis C will develop chronic (long-term) infection.
- * About 20% of the people who have chronic hepatitis C will get very sick with cirrhosis. It usually takes many years.
- * Cirrhosis—severe scarring or hardening of the liver—may occur prior to experiencing symptoms. Cirrhosis leads to liver failure. Those who have liver failure need a liver transplant because a person cannot live with a failing liver.

CHAPTER 3: HEPATITIS C

* About 3 % of the people who have chronic hepatitis C will get liver cancer.

Immunization Information

If you have hepatitis C, it is highly recommended that you get vaccines against hepatitis A (HAV) and B (HBV).

When people with hepatitis C are coinfecting with hepatitis A and B, the outcome of the infection can be very severe. A combination HAV/HBV vaccine is also available for people who are interested.

Contact your local health department to inquire about hepatitis A and B vaccination availability. See page 3-5 to find your local health department.

How To Love Your Liver

The liver is a very important organ. One of its jobs is to filter virtually everything that you take into your body. However, drinking alcohol, smoking cigarettes and inhaling toxic fumes can damage the liver and affect its performance.

There are things you can do to love your liver.

- Stop (or greatly reduce) drinking alcohol, smoking cigarettes and taking drugs.
- Stay away from supplements that contain a lot of iron. If you are taking supplements, switch to a formula that has no/low iron.
- Avoid a lot of processed sugars.
- Eat more vegetables and fruits, particularly those high in vitamin C.
- Stay away from toxic fumes and/or liquids.
- Tell your family and friends that you need them to help you stop (or greatly reduce) drinking, smoking and taking drugs.
- Get vaccines to protect your liver.
- Tell your doctor about all medicines you are taking, including over the counter medication.
- Eat a healthy and well-balanced diet.
- Drink a lot of water.
- Stay away from raw or uncooked shellfish.
- Limit your caffeine intake by cutting back on coffee, tea and soda.
- Avoid taking high doses of vitamin A and D.
